JULLIEN AT RICHMOND.-Jullien on Wednesday night gave his third concert at Richmond, and, the Enquirer says, "for a wonder, it was as well attended as the first. It deserved to be, but we confess to our surprise, that with esion fee of one dollar, Metropolitan Hall should be filled night after night. It is alike creditable to the musical taste of our citizens and to the skill of the performers in Jullien's band. These concerts ought to be attended by all who can appreciate beautiful music, and by all who desire to cultivate a refined musical taste. Such opportunities are rarely offered, and, when they do occur, no individual should neglect them. A prejudice exists with some persons, who stay away from such concerts because, as they imagine, they cannot understand, and therefore cannot enjoy, the music. These persons are mistaken; for while the compositions rendered night after night by Julien are of the highest order, they annot fail to impart pleasure to all who hear following extract from the Wellington Spectator, of September 7th, shows that the Governor of that colony is making a move in the right direction. The writer says: "A plan of small farms for working-men has been in agitation for the last six months, ever since, in short, the reduction made in the price of land by the the reduction made in the price of land by the Governor's new regulations. The Governor, we understand, has given every encouragement to the scheme, and suggested that in each newly-acquired district a block of land (some 15,000 or 20,000 acres) should be set apart for a limited period, to afford facilities to the working classes, and especially to new comers, for the purchase of land under pertain regulations. These blocks might be laid out on the plan of the receivers willness at the north and form These blocks might be laid out on the plan of the pensioner villages at the north, and form the nuclei of agricultural settlements; and the Provincial Council, in the approaching sitting, could pass such regulations for the sale and settlement of the land as would effectually secure the objects contemplated.

This is true. The simplicity of Jullien's music is its greatest charm. His first concert will be given in this city on Monday night.

The Apple Man in 1853—N. P. Morrison, of Somerville, last year received $10 for one barrel and twenty-eight apples of the Hubburdston variety. These apples were sold by the retailer at fifty to seventy-five cents a dozen. Mr. M. oultivates, says the New England Farmer, eight acres of land; his truit, this barren year, 1853, brought him $850. For twenty-six bushels of apples he received $60. For one hundred and thirty-six barrels, he received $468. For strawberries and raspberries, $100. The balance, to make up the whole sum, $850, was for cider-apples, sold at from eight to twelve cents a bushel, and for early wind-falls sold in July and August. Perhaps some of our young men will come to the conclusion that the market for good fruit is not yet over-stocked.—The Plough, the Loom, and the Anvil. THE APPLE MAN IN 1853 -N. P. Morrison

A beautiful Engraving in each Number.

THE LIVING AGE has been abundantly honored by the approbation of the best judges; it has been pronounced to be sound and vigorous; various and entertaining; full of spirit and life; uniting the qualities which gratify the scholar, the philosopher, and the man of business, with those which recommend it to their wives and children. We shall now endeavor to add to those intrinsic excellences the greater attractions of Art, and, beginning with 1854, Every Number will contain an Impression from LITTELL'S LIVING AGE-1854 endeavor to add to these intrinsic excellences the greater attractions of Art, and, beginning with 1854, Every Number will contain an Impression from a beautiful Steel Plate.

The 52 Plates a year will alone be worth the price of subscription.

This work is made up of the elaborate and stately cessays of the Edinburgh, Quarterly, and other Reviews; and Blackwood's noble criticisms on poetry, his keen political commentaries, highly wrought tales, and vivid descriptions of rural and mountain scenery; and the contributions to literature, history, and common, life, by the sagacious Spectator, the sparkling Examiner, the judicious Athenaeum, the busy and industrious Literary Gazette, the sensible and comprehensive Britannia, the sober and respectable Christian Observer; these are intermixed with the military and naval reminiscences of the United Service, and with the best articles of the Dublin University, New Monthly, Fraser's, Tait's, Ainsworth's, Hood's, and Sporting Magazines, and of Chamber's admirable Journal. We do not consider it beneath our dignity to borrow wit and wisdom from Panch; and, when we think it good enough, make use of the thunder of The Times. We shall increase our variety by importations from the continent of Europe, and from the new growth of the British colonies.

THE LIVING AGE is published every Saturday, by LITTELL, SON, & COMPANY, corner of Tremont and Bromfield streets, Boston. Price 124 cents a number, or six dollars a year in advance. Remittances for any period will be thankfully received and promptly attended to.

POSTAGE FREE.

We will send the Living Age, postage free, to all subscribers within the United States who remit in advance, directly to the office of publication, the sum of six dollars; thus placing our distant subscribers on the same footing as those nearer to us, and making the whole country our neighborhood.

principal wholesale merchant tailors in New York city.

New York, July 30, 1853.

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that we have examined the "Avery Sewing Machine," and cheerfully recommend it for its simplicity, durability, and especially for the peculiar stitch made by it. The stitch is original, and in appearance is like the most perfect and handsome "back-stitching." We have thoroughly tested the strength of the sewing, and are satisfied that the stitch of this machine makes a stronger and firmer seam than can be made by hand. We take pleasure in recommending this Machine to our friends, and to tailors, seamstresses, and families generally, throughout the country:

HENRY JANNEY, SHOE DEALER, and Fashionable Boot Maker, Pennsylvania Avenue, between Browns' Hotel and Seventh street, Washington. Jan 2—3m

HENRY JANNEY'S Boot and Shoe Store and Manufactory, for the last ten years located on Sth street, near the General Post Office, was removed to Pennsylvania Avenue, between Browns' Hotel and 7th street, where the proprietor has spared no pains or expense in fitting up an establishment commensurate with the great increase in the business of the house.

The subscriber tenders his most cordial and grateful acknowledgments to his friends and patrons for their long-continued favors, and will be pleased to meet them in his new house.

I have a very well-assorted stock of Boots and Shees, of French, New York, Eastern, and my own make, embracing every style and variety, to which I invite the attention of members of Congress, and citizens generally.

HENRY JANNEY.

Penn. av., north side, between Browns' Hotel Jan. 2 and 7th st., third door from the latter.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either are in want of a boot that eannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would eall their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is caused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort.

FARM NEAR WASHINGTON FOR SALE

FARM NEAR WASHINGTON FOR SALE.

The subscriber offers for sale his Farm, situated about five miles from Washington, D.C., in Prince George's county, Md. It contains 1784 acres, more than 30 of which is a fine alluvial meadow, producing a ton and a half of hay to the acre, but which under improved cultivation would produce at least two tons. Hay sells in the Washington market at from $15 to $30 per ton. About four acres of the place is a marsh, covered with several feet in thickness of black earth, the result of decayed vegetation, which, properly composted, is a source from which the upland may be enriched at a reasonable cost. About 60 acres of the farm is woodland—growth principally oak and chestnut. The land, except the meadow, is undulating, and affords many beautiful sites for building. There are many springs of excellent water on the place, and it is noted for its healthfulness. The soil of the greater part of the upland is a sandy loam, underlaid by clay—in some places, clay predominating. About 75 acres could be divided into small gardening farms, giving nearly an equal quantity of wood and arable land to each. There is an orchard of 150 peach trees and 60 apple trees on the place, all bearing. The farm is well fenced. The buildings are—a log house of four rooms, with a frame addition of three rooms, a meat-house of sun-dried brick, a log kitchen separate from the dwelling, a corn-house, stable, carriage-house, &c. There is a stream of water running through the place, with sufficient water and fall for a small mill. Price, $50 per acre. Terms—one-third cash: a long credit for the residue, if desired; or, it would be exchanged for real estate in the city of Washington. Address

BACON'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE, Northwest corner of Sixth and Walnut streets

BACON'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE,

Northwest corner of Sixth and Walnul streets,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

THE undersigned has removed his Mercantile College to his new building, northwest corner of Walnut and Sixth streets, where he has fitted up a splendid suite of rooms, expressly for his business—having spared neither pains nor expense in making them in every respect the most convenient and pleasant school rooms in the United States.

The plan adopted in teaching combines practice with theory; instead of using books, the pupils are exercised in making original entries of every-day business transactions. Journalizing, posting, balancing accounts, opening and closing of a great variety of different sets of books, both for partnership and individual business, where the business has been prosperous and adverse; and thus qualifying the student for entering into the practical duties of the accountant, in any kind of business.

The course of instruction will consist of Double-entry Book-keeping, embracing every department of trade and mercantile accounts, vis: Wholesale, Retail, Commission, Exchange, Banking, Manufacturing, Shipping, Individual, Partnership, Steamboating, and Compound Co. Business. Commercial Calculations, Practical Penmanship, and Lectures on Commercial Law; also, Lectures on the Science of Accounts, Custom of Merchants, etc.

In addition to the regular course of study, the undersigned has made arrangements with Henry Snow, Esq., Hon. Bellamy Storer, Prof C. W. Wright, and other eminent lecturers, to deliver a course of Lectures on the subjects of Commercial Law, History of Commerce, and other subjects of great importance in a commercial point of view, and never before introduced in any Mercantile College in the United States.

Pupils are instructed individually, and not in class es; so that students may enter at any time, and proceed in the ratio of their capacity and assiduity.

Public examinations are had, (though pupils are examined privately, if they desire it,) when the student who are deemed werehy of ing, Writing, Commercial Calculations, Commercial Law, etc., $40.

R. S. BACON, Principal

From the Cincinnati Enquirer of March 12, 1853.

BACON'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE.—The examination of the students in Book-keeping exhibited a degree of proficiency on their part highly creditable to themselves and Mr. Bacon their instructor.

The most difficult problems in Double Entry were as rapidly solved as the most simple, giving ample proof to the audience that the information imparted during the session would be of practical benefit.

From the Cincinnati Daily Gazette.

The various complex questions proposed by the Principal and other gentlomen present were answered with great promptitude and conciseness, which reflects great credit upon the course of study pursued at this institution. From the Cincinnati Daily Times.

Mr. Bacon's school is in a flourishing condition, and the patronage extended it is a high compliment to the thorough mercantile education there imparted.

Mr. Bacon is unrivalled as a teacher—a diploma from his College, in Cincinnati, is required as a singua non in obtaining situations in the best mercantile houses in large cities.

From the Cincinnati Gazette, Nov. 8, 1853. Mr. Bacon has constructed the upper portion of his building expressly for the purposes of his College, and, without any doubt, it is the most complete ar-rangement of the kind in the United States.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

This whole institution is undoubtedly the most elegant and finished establishment, for its purposes, in the world.

THIS day published, the Fifth Edition, Revised On volume 12mo, cloth, 63 cents.

This volume should be in the hands of every cultivator of these delicious fruits, for it embodies, in a compact and available form, the experience of accomplished and practical Horticulturists on subjects which have come directly under their own observation for a long series of years. Of a former edition of "Buchanan on the Grape," we subjoin a few NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Mr. Downing in his Harticulturists says: "It deals

Mr. Downing, in his Horticulturest, says: "It deals more with facts, with actual experience and observation, and less with speculation, supposition, and belief, than anything on this topic that has yet appeared in the United States. In other words, a man may take it, and plant a vineyard, and raise grapes with success."

"Furnishes, in a small space, a very great amount of instructive information relative to the culture of the Grape." - Farmer's and Planter's Encyclopædia

"Will be found to convey the most opportune and valuable instruction, to all interested in the subject."
